

KAISER WORSTED BY GREAT BRITAIN

England Has Played Successfully
Lone Hand in Greek-Turkish Dispute Over Crete.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—England has played a lone hand in the game of world's politics and as a result of her firm, but not inflexible, policy, she has lost Crete, which she had won from the Turks, and she has been forced to make an excuse for starting projects which might split Europe up anew, has been forced to make a concession of a temperate island to the Greeks, and has been forced to let the Greek national assembly announce from Athens to the end of the year is a year of trouble and confusion.

Setting out with the object of basing the Kaiser's aims on the Near East, the British foreign office has played its cards so well that it has been able to obtain creditable authority today. France, Italy and Russia are ready to stand by the British position, and the whole of the entire situation may be nothing but the start of a complete realignment of the Germany is credited in diplomatic circles with strong and avid desires for Turkey. Every move of the Kaiser has been carefully watched by him. Austria, whose future ruler, Franz Ferdinand, who, owing to the Russian intervention, owes his chance to mount the throne to Italy, the other member of the triple alliance, has shown strong signs of sympathy, of which the recent visit of the Emperor to the King of Victor Emanuel was not the least proof. That had for its object the laying of a stone towards Austria's Near East designs, the result of which is Italy's ally in the triple compact.

While Russia and Italy have taken a stance inimical to the Teutonic power, France has been in the position into Britain. But England has been quickly engineering the Greek-Turkish situation to suit her foreign interests and has gone so far as to send a fleet to the aid of Edward Grey, her own secretary, who kept close watch on the situation and has asserted today that he was behind the British ultimatum to Greece. The latter's efforts to turn the sympathy of George from the national assembly in Athens, has aroused much animosity in Athens.

Prominent statesmen today declared that the re-occupation of Crete was only a matter of time and that the Greek developments might be England had thoroughly worried Germany in the silent game of international play. War Office spokesman today said in London, Feb. 3.—The dispatch of the quadron from Malta, to Pireus is in ative of the determination of the international force, the British and France and Italy—to assure a strict adherence to the agreement under which the international force was withdrawn from the Straits. The British ambassador solemnly promised to take no steps against the Society of Turkey.

The recent decision of King George, if Greek opinion is to be trusted, the assembly was followed by reports that the Gretians would attempt to send delegates to the body. This caused uneasiness at Constantinople, and the Turkish government informed the powers
protecting the Island that if Crete was admitted to the Greek national assembly, the action would be regarded by the Porte as a casus belli, and of the British ambassador in Ankara, Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary. A semi-official statement issued by Athens last week said that the anxieties excited in Turkey were groundless and that the association of the British fleet with the Cretan uprising would be precisely because it was the only way of ensuring that parliamentary elections which otherwise might have given the Cretans an opportunity to realize their ambition to send deputies to Athens. It also stated that the movement of the British vessels made clear that the powers concerned do not propose to permit any action threatening peace in the island, and that they are as any disturbing the status quo.

national assembly is not likely to be issued until March and it is practically certain that the assembly will not convene until December. Any action on the part of the Cretans provocative of a crisis in the near future, out of the question.

The government today formally assured the Porte the Cretans would have no occasion to send deputies to the assembly inasmuch as it would be convened in the winter of 1913, and that the Cretans would be represented, but merely a specially convoked revisionary parliament composed only of deputies from the Greek kingdom.

At the meeting two authors will be chosen. Church friends are asked to all other associations of men in the city should see that their interest is protected in this public meeting.

CHURCH AT PACKING PLANT.
A movement is on foot among the residents of the newly incorporated village of North Edmonton to build a new church at that place. With this and in view a very attractive church is being built in the district of the Transit Hotel. The church was occupied by W. Leverage and was present between a hundred and fifty and two hundred people.

Program was given after which refreshments were served. The proceeds realized of the concert make a good start towards the new church in the village.

ENGINEERING ASSOCIATION.
At the regular meeting of Edmonton Engineering Association, held in the Arkhild block, G. M. Stewart read a paper on the Copper Queen mine, Arizona. This mine is the largest copper mine in the world, and Mr. Stewart was one of the men who worked with its workings. The address given last evening was decidedly interesting and well received. NO INDIANS AT FAIR.
A delegation from the Temperance and Moral Reform League headed by Rev. T. Buchanan, of the University of Alberta, met at the Minister of Agriculture yesterday afternoon asking him to refuse to allow Indians for advertising purposes at provincial fair. The delegation contended that the Indians were demoralized by their visits to such affairs and here was a crisis in the situation. The delegation also presented the same request to the Alberta fair commission yesterday.

TO DEPOSE PRESIDENT DAYTON.
Henderson is at South American Republic. With the departure of President Dayton, the situation here is critical and may result in the deposition of President Dayton by congress. A state of signs has been in existence for some time and now it is allowed on the streets at night after six o'clock. Food stuffs are selling at high prices. Some time what they brought before the state of signs was in existence. There has been in session ever since January 1, but has done nothing but quarrel with President Dayton over certain laws that he enacted by decree during the recess. Congress refused to ratify them.

PERSONAL

W. L. Puffer, M.P.P. Laconia, came to the city yesterday afternoon and is a guest at the Alberta.

Chas. E. Taylor, superintendent of the Edmonton street car system, is expected here next Thursday from his trip to the coast.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of St. George's society was held last night and of the city yesterday afternoon. The year shows a good work being done. A full report of the proceedings will appear tomorrow.

FIRST RESPONSE TO CIRCULAR.

The first reply to a circular which the proposed government stock pooling plan has just been received by W. Stevens, live stock commissioner. The response comes to hand from John Burns, of Selkirk, and he agrees to furnish the new plant with at least one hundred hogs a year.

UNITED FARMERS MEET.

A meeting of the executive of the United Farmers of Alberta was held last night to hear the report of the secretary-treasurer, E. J. Frank in connection with the annual meeting of the association. AMUSEMENTS

RETURN OF THE FAVORITES.
Last evening the San Francisco Opera company commenced a return engagement at the Royal theatre. The first night from Manila. Today Webb and here, but Miss Kilday, a prima donna so often here and always sure of a warm reception. The company, however, comes Miss Virginia Ainsworth today of rich accomplishments, whose interesting career has been a study to all evening were so pleasing that her return was a relief.

"The Girl from Manila" is found in a plot that overcomes with humor and fun, are all the members of the company excel in their respective parts. In all the plays are a real inside the way. J. Russell Powell, who has recently joined the staff, has a rich baritone voice and a great deal of knowledge. Miss Bula Vanya, will sustain the leading role in "The Girl from Manila" on her singing with a very sweet voice and acting with great vivacity. James Stevens, who has been here for some time, has been in session ever since January 1, but has done nothing but quarrel with President Dayton over certain laws that he enacted by decree during the recess. Congress refused to ratify them.

SUFFRAGETTES HAVE AN ABANDONED MILITANCY

"Votes for Women" Campaign Will Be Conducted From Now on in a Purely Conventional Way—Mrs. Pankhurst Speaks of Policy of Suffragettes in Marching Before.

London, Feb. 3.—Mrs. Christabel Pankhurst, writer for this week's "Votes for Women," says: "The policy of opposition to the government will be continued at every by-election. Representatives of the government will be in the field urging the electors to vote against the government nominee, but militant action will not be resumed unless we are convinced that the government will not be returned. The passage of militant action will prove to the public that such action has been resorted to by members of the union not from any love of disorder or lawlessness, but because of the fruit of peaceful, lawful agitation to inform the government."

The union can best be won by a campaign of protest calling for a heavy sacrifice of health and liberty on the part of the women. We hope the need is over and that militancy has done its work. May be the opposition to our demands has no longer any real existence; may be the logic of the present political situation will lead it to be soon enough to convert it into a government. It is not possible that the government has suffered a change of heart that precludes no longer militant action, but resist only the cessation of militancy will enable the doubts to be settled. If the government responds to the demands of the women, is the opportunity likely powerful and conventional ways. Militant methods will not be resumed."

HOCKEY.

SAINTS ARE SORE LOSERS.
Calgary Athletes, who managed the team that has been a bunch of work, is now in a position to play in their team in Alberta. Writing to a Calgary friend, Andy says he has $100 that he has been besting him in the game.

Mr. Hoch, manager of the St. Mary's, stated last evening that he did not consider the Deacons team anything but the best of the province. He was rather than disappointed the Edmonton team, but he was only for the regular team. Then again, Calgary has three senior teams, and the Deacons are the pick of Edmonton. The Tigers, St. Mary's, at full strength, can give the Deacons a run for their money and time, and the Alberta Hockey League will make a city team chosen from the Deacons, the Tigers, the Lions, McKenize, Rodman, McElath and Sparrow would prove more than a match for Andy B's Eagles.

Alma McNeill of the L.L. stated that his team will arrange home games with the Deacons, goals to score, to decide the winners. The only stipulation will be that the teams must add amateur cards of the Alberta A. A.

SPEED WAS TREMENDOUS.

Commercial Men in Webwood Wreck.
Sunday, Feb. 3.—A day's delay was caused in the Spanish River wreck by the failure to produce a number of forward trucks of the first class coach, the trucks being still in the river. A surprise was sprung tonight on two commercial travellers, whose testimonies were taken in the house, and the engineering firm's evidence.

Russell Smith swore that he and another travelling man, Saunders, were in the clinic gear when the crash came. He stated that the time he was in the wreck, 1:10. As the train was due at Webwood, eight miles further on, it conflicts with the engineer's statement that he was on time and not turning back about forty miles at least. He said that the speed was tremendous.

Joe Johnson, another traveller, contradicted the engineer's statement that the train had not stopped at Naim, but merely slowed down at Naim, and the train stopped dead. He took time getting aboard.

Winning Fire.

Winthrop, Feb. 3.—The premises of the Lewis Furniture Company, Main street, were badly gutted by fire this evening. The loss is estimated at about $10,000. The fire was discovered at 11:15 p.m. by a passerby walking from the Sterling furniture building. The fire was caused by a defective wire. The building was gutted and goods on the floor beneath were destroyed by fire. The company held $10,000 in insurance with the Anglo-American fire insurance company. It is thought the blaze started in a defective wire.

Drummond Obsequies.

Montreal, Feb. 4.—The funeral of the late Sir George Drummond took place this afternoon from the family vault, St. Roch's street, to the Church of St. Roch, where the interment took place. The funeral was a very large one. The late Sir George Drummond was a prominent member of the law, and a member of the House of Commons. He was represented by Lord Lansdowne. Many messages of condolence were received from many sources. The funeral was a very large one.

THE SEED FAIR PROVES AN IMMENSE SUCCESS

The Attendance is Larger Than Ever Before and Exhibitors Are Very Satisfied With the Results—The Seed Fair in the Province—The Prize Winners in the Different Categories.

The fourth annual Provincial Seed Fair being conducted in the new McLeod hall, on the corner of Broadway and Second street, under the auspices of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, assisted by the Seed Branch of the Dominion Government of Agriculture, will close this evening after the most successful session in its history.

All parts of the province are well represented in the exhibit and the display is a magnificent one, giving the visitor an excellent idea of the agricultural resources of Alberta. It is without doubt the best display of seed grain, etc., that has ever been brought together in the West and the prize winners have the satisfaction of knowing that they are the best in the West.

In addition to the seed judging lectures are being delivered in the basement of the building by Dr. J. B. Bedford of Manitoba Agricultural College, Professor L. H. Lincoln, of the University of Alberta, and other prominent experts. The prize winners in various categories are as follows:

Judging Competition.
